Notes on the staff

Here is a guide for learning notes on the treble and bass clef.

Learning notes is all about practice and memorization! The more you review the faster you'll memorize.

Ledger lines

Ledger lines are the notes above and below the staff. Here are a few tricks for learning

If you start on the ledger line above the staff you can spell the word ACE going up a ledger line each time. If you know the ledger lines then you can go up or down one for the space notes. Easy cheesy.

If you know where middle C is then you can count down from there.

Two ledger lines below the base clef is low C. Memorize where this is located to find the other notes.
